

Visa Payables Automation (VPA) Activation & Payment Process

Step 1: Security Question and Answer Notifications

Upon enrolling, you will be provided with two emails, one containing up to three security questions and one containing up to three security answers. The answers to these questions will be provided by your customer.

One of these sets of questions and answers will be needed each time you need to log into the VPA portal. When combined with the unique URL in the Payment Advice Email, you will have access to the full Visa credit card account number needed for payment.

Dear Valued Supplier:

You are receiving this notification because you have agreed to participate in TestBuyer payables automation programme and to be paid by Visa Commercial account or because you currently participate in the programme and your security question(s) have changed.

You will receive automated remittance emails for all payments from TestBuyer. The notification will contain the information that you will need to process the payment in addition to a secure link that you will use to access the full account number. To access the full account number, you will need to provide the last four digits of the account number (provided in the body of the remittance email) in addition to the answer to one of the security question(s) listed below. The answer(s) to the below question(s) will be provided in a separate email.

| Security Question Number | Security Question(s) |
|--------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 | What is your passcode? |

If you have any questions, please email TestBuyer at testbuyer@visa.com. This is an automated email generated by Visa Inc. Please do not reply to this email.

REMINDER: Never provide your credit or cheque card number in an email. Neither Visa nor your card issuer will ever require you to send your personal information such as account numbers, passwords or PINs within an email message. If you receive suspicious emails claiming to be from Visa or your Visa card issuer, please forward to phishing@visa.com.

DISCLAIMER: This email message and any attachment are intended only for the use of the addressees named above and may contain information that is confidential. If you are not an intended recipient, any display, distribution, copying or retention is strictly prohibited. If you have received the email in error, we are sorry for any inconvenience. Please email TestBuyer at testbuyer@visa.com immediately.

Step 2: Receiving Payment Notification

Your customer will initiate a payment for processing, which will generate a Payment Advice Email directly to you. The email will contain buyer contact information, the last four digits of the card account number, and the secure URL you will need to get the remaining card account information. The buyer can extend or shorten the payment expiration date while it is still active, but not after it has expired. If it has expired, the buyer will need to resubmit the payment.

Optional Items:

- An additional note may be passed on from the buyer in payment instruction file to the supplier. If the buyer selects to include a note, it will be included in the payment advice email.
- In addition to including the invoice information in the email, if configured by the Buyer, the invoice details can also be included as a CSV attachment.

Step 3: Accessing the Virtual Card Account Information

When you copy and paste the URL from the Payment Advice Email above into your browser's address field, you will be directed to the below page and prompted to provide an answer to one of the security questions provided earlier.

Payment Advice Notification

The form contains two input fields, each with a red border and a red asterisk indicating it is required. The first field is labeled "Account Number (Enter last 4 digits only)". Below it is a box labeled "From Remittance Advice Email" with an arrow pointing to the input field. The second field is labeled "What is your passcode?". Below it is a box labeled "From Security Answer" with an arrow pointing to the input field. To the right of the second field is a red asterisk and the text "as Required". At the bottom right of the form is a blue button labeled "CONTINUE".

Step 4: Retrieving Your Payment Details

When you are ready to process your payment, use the virtual credit card account number and invoice information in the Payment Advice Email to charge the account. You may receive a Payment Reminder Notification if this payment isn't settled within the buyer-defined payment expiration period (if configured by the buyer).
